ABOUT ME

Chemistry graduate turned coding enthusiast! After mastering the elements, I've swapped my lab coat for a laptop to explore the dynamic world of web development. Currently polishing my skills in a top-tier full stack bootcamp, I already have a solid foundation in programming. I'm passionate about creating user-friendly, aesthetically pleasing websites and am eager to bring my analytical mindset and attention to detail to a junior developer role. Ready to mix some code and create solutions that work!
